Assignment	Description	Instructions	Due date
1) A Page in History	The Coronavirus Pandemic will undoubtedly be recorded in history books. This activity allows you to be the author.	Write a chapter for a history book discussing Covid19. Include its scientific description, its impact on the economy, society and in politics. Make a subheading within your chapter for each new topic.	April 20, 2020
2) Share a Story	Younger children and elderly adults truly enjoy the company of others. Take some time to read to someone.	Record yourself (with a video or a picture) sharing a story with someone younger than you or read aloud to an elderly person. Some examples: a short picture book for one time use or a chapter book that continues for additional interaction or maybe just a magazine article of interest to your audience. Include a short description on notebook paper or in google docs of your experience and the impact you had on the other person.	April 20, 2020
3) Random Act of Kindness	During this stressful time of uncertainty, people want to be reminded of all the good in the world.	Use your creativity to engage in an act of unexpected kindness to another person. Record your act of kindness through pictures, a video or in an essay describing your act and how it impacted the person you showed kindness toward.	April 20, 2020
4) Three Things	Nationalism is a sense of pride in the country. Right now Americans are finding ways to be good citizens and showing their support through many efforts to help out during this critical period to keep people safe.	Find three ways people, companies or organizations are providing support to others right now. You can create a powerpoint (google slides) a poster or record the information on notebook paper or in google docs. Be sure to include the Who, What, When, Where and Why of each example. Use the hashtag #conqueringcovid somewhere in your title.	April 20, 2020

INSTRUCTIONS:

Please select one option from the chart above. After you have completed your assignment, you may email it to me or attach it in google classroom to submit it. If unable to turn in your assignment online, please turn it in at the next packet turn in/pick up or bring with you when we return to school (whichever comes first). I encourage you to put some thought into your activity as it is important to understand the human impact of what we are experiencing in the world today because of the Coronavirus. Please let me know if you have any questions.
