RLA	We will begin reading about "Day of Doom" in Storyworks. We will be looking at author's purpose, and text structure specifically (cause and effect).
Math	We will take our Mid-Module Assessment and then start dividing decimals.
Science	Students will design a simple experimental investigation that tests the effect of force on an object in a system of a balloon rocket on a string. This project will be a test grade.
SS	We will continue talking about explorers coming to America.
